

Fiber optic fusion splicing equipment special offer

Summary of Content

You can find a variety of discounted and refurbished fiber optic fusion splicers starting from around $1,295, with kits including cleavers, strippers, and batteries for professional use.

Current Special Offers

- FiberOptic Resale offers refurbished FORC F15 fusion splicers starting at $1,950, fully tested and calibrated, including cleavers and a 1-year warranty. New INNO View 5 splicers are available for $5,999 with a 3-year warranty, including a high-precision cleaver, fiber holder, electrodes, and carrying case .
- Amazon features models like the Signal Fire AI-9 and AI-6A, with fast splicing times (5-8 seconds) and core alignment technology, priced from $555 to $6,890, often including batteries, cleavers, and touchscreens for FTTH and telecom applications .
- eBay lists both new and pre-owned splicers, such as the Komshine EX39 and INNO View 12R, with prices ranging from $350 to $3,200, offering free shipping on many items and additional accessories like electrodes and fiber holders .
- FiberOptic Supply provides top-tier splicers like AFL 100S+ and TiniFiber kits, with discounts from MSRP, ready for fast shipping and professional deployment .

Features to Consider

- Core Alignment vs. Cladding Alignment: Core alignment splicers provide higher precision and lower splice loss, ideal for backbone networks, while cladding alignment splicers are more budget-friendly for FTTH or LAN installations .
