Iraqi FRP Grating Cable Tray Manufacturer

Summary of Content

Protik and Kanza Iraq are leading manufacturers and suppliers of FRP grating cable trays in Iraq, offering corrosion-resistant, high-quality solutions for industrial and construction projects.

Key Manufacturers and Suppliers

1. Protik Protik is a prominent manufacturer of fiberglass cable trays in Iraq, providing FRP solutions that are non-conductive, non-magnetic, and corrosion-resistant, making them ideal for electrical and instrumentation installations in harsh environments such as chemical plants and construction sites. Their FRP cable trays are designed to carry lighter loads like low-voltage, telecommunication, and fiber-optic cables, with solid or perforated bottoms to protect cables from damage. Protik emphasizes quality control and global testing standards to ensure reliable performance in demanding conditions . 2. Kanza Iraq Kanza Iraq offers a full range of cable tray systems, including FRP and other materials, for industrial and construction applications. Their production line ensures consistent quality, timely delivery, and custom solutions for large-scale projects. They provide technical support for specifications, fittings, and installation guidance, making them a reliable choice for complex projects in Iraq . 3. International Suppliers Exporting to Iraq Several international FRP manufacturers, such as those listed by FRP Cable Trays, export molded FRP/GRP gratings and cable trays to Iraq. These products are made from glass fiber reinforced resins (unsaturated polyester, epoxy, or phenolic) and are designed for high corrosion resistance, lightweight strength, and chemical durability. They include a full range of accessories, clamps, and support systems suitable for industrial and commercial installations .
