

Taiwanese wire mesh rack price

Summary of Content

Taiwanese wire mesh racks are generally cost-effective, with prices varying based on size, material, and bulk order quantity.

Price Overview

Wire mesh racks from Taiwan are considered affordable and durable, often made from steel or aluminum, and are suitable for industrial, retail, or storage applications . Prices typically depend on:

- Material: Stainless steel racks are more expensive than standard steel or aluminum options .
- Size and design: Larger racks or those with specialized panels for display or supermarket use cost more .
- Order quantity: Bulk purchases usually reduce the per-unit price, with suppliers offering flexible pricing for large orders .
- Supplier and shipping: Exporters like House Way Co., Ltd. provide international shipping and may offer quotes based on destination and order size .

Typical Price Range

While exact prices fluctuate, small to medium-sized wire mesh racks for display or storage purposes can range from $30 to $150 per unit for standard models, with bulk orders potentially lowering the cost significantly . Custom or heavy-duty industrial racks may cost more, depending on specifications and finishing.
