

What are some manufacturers of electrical distribution boxes in Ireland

Summary of Content

Key manufacturers and distributors of electrical distribution boxes in Ireland include Demesne Electrical, Capital Switchgear, Schneider Electric Ireland, and BPX.

Notable Manufacturers and Distributors

Demesne Electrical is a prominent distributor of industrial electrical components, including a wide range of distribution boxes, busbars, and enclosures. They stock products such as the Euro2000 range of distribution boxes, modular busbar systems, and fuse holders, all designed for reliability and safety in electrical installations . Capital Switchgear specializes in low-voltage switchgear and distribution boards, offering main and sub-distribution boards, motor control centers, and power distribution panels. Their products are tailored for industrial buildings and data centers, with advanced energy monitoring options . Schneider Electric Ireland provides a comprehensive range of steel enclosures and distribution boxes, including PanelSeT and Spacial series, suitable for both standard and customized applications . BPX offers terminal and distribution boxes, including Schneider terminal blocks and enclosures, catering to industrial and commercial electrical installations . EWL Electric and Ashtown Electrical Distribution are also key suppliers, providing a wide range of electrical products including distribution boxes, switchgear, and cabling solutions across multiple locations in Ireland .

Considerations

When selecting a manufacturer or distributor, consider:

- Product certifications (IEC, UL, CSA) for safety and compliance
